

National Taiwan Normal University Discovery of Suspected Severe Pneumonia with Novel Pathogens Infection Flowchart

Health Center 1090312

Body
Temperature
Self-Report

Respiratory symptoms such as fever (forehead temperature $\geq 37.5^{\circ}\text{C}$, ear temperature $\geq 38^{\circ}\text{C}$), headache, sore throat, cough, etc.

1. Fill out a form on NTNU's "Fever or other symptoms self-report system"
2. Report to NTNU hotline
Daytime: Health Center ext. 3111, Night: Special Advisor Office ext. 3123

1. Wear a mask
2. Go to the school's "Fever Waiting Room"

NTNU's "Fever or other symptoms self-report system"

Consult TOCC
Travel History, Occupation, Possible Exposure to People/Large Groups

Attached: TOCC Assessment Form

NTNU Anti-Epidemic Unit

Yes

No

Epidemic prevention management member

1. Self-isolate at home
2. Self-quarantine at home
3. Monitor own health

Non-epidemic prevention management member

1. Self-isolate at home
2. Self-quarantine at home
3. Monitor own health

Medical Institution

Notify the Ministry of Health and Welfare, following instructions to seek medical attention (do not take public transportation) 1922 hotline or
Taipei City Epidemic Prevention Line 02-2375-3782 (24 hours)
New Taipei City Epidemic Prevention Line 02-2258-6923 (24 hours)

Confirmed

No

Yes

Register tracking management

Refer to "National Taiwan Normal University Severe Pneumonia with Novel Pathogens Epidemic Prevention Procedures"

※NTNU will adjust relevant epidemic prevention measures in accordance with government policies to maintain public health and safety at the school